Sierra Goes All C.A.P.S.

Sierra Construction, Inc. is pleased to announce that Gina Sierra-Townsend has earned the designation of Certified Aging-In-Place Specialist (CAPS), by the National Association of Home Builders (NAHB). NAHB, in collaboration with AARP, developed this program to provide comprehensive, practical, market-specific information about working with older and maturing adults to remodel their homes for aging in place. Congratulations to Gina for her new designation!

A Certified Aging-in-Place Specialist is trained in the unique needs of the older adult population, aging-in-place home modifications, common remodeling projects and solutions to common barriers. This new designation aides in the demand for Universal Design, which combines the factors of genetics, lifestyle and environment. Universal Design calls for products, services and environments that are usable by as many people as possible, regardless of age, ability, or situation. The majority of Americans over the age of 45 want to continue living in a familiar environment throughout their maturing years. According to the AARP, older homeowners overwhelmingly prefer to age in place, which means living in your home safely, independently and comfortably.

Sierra Access Construction has specialized in providing quality, on-time construction services to fill the accessibility needs of both residential and commercial clients since 1974. Be sure to contact us for all of your remodeling needs!
